Announcement

The Edmonton Bulletin ceases publication with today's issue.

Steadily rising costs of materials and labor have turned the recent impressive success of The Bulletin into failure to continue publishing.

In the last three years The Bulletin has made the largest percentage gain in circulation and advertising of any paper in Canada.

Restricted newspaper (paper) supply, building and mechanical expansion limitations forbid The Bulletin to handle this extraordinary growth, so we have to discontinue publication.

Many newspapers have been forced out of business in centres of population much larger than Edmonton and the trend is that the number of cities able to support more than one newspaper is steadily decreasing.

We wish to thank our readers and advertisers for their generous and enthusiastic support over the past few years.

To discharge our obligation to readers whose subscriptions were paid in advance, we have been able to arrange with the Edmonton Journal to complete such subscription periods for us. If any Bulletin subscriber would prefer a refund for the unexpired portion of his subscription, he may obtain it by writing within 30 days of this announcement, addressing his request to The Edmonton Bulletin Limited.

Canoe River Disaster Has Sequel In Report

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners in its finding on the Nov. 21 train wreck which killed 21 persons near Canoe River, B.C., today recommended measures for improving safety of train operations in the mountain regions.

The board did not rule on the individual responsibility for the wreck in which a Canadian National Railway special train carrying Canadian troops to Fort Lewis Wash., collided with a CNR freight passenger train.

It made these recommendations:

1. That black signals be installed as soon as possible through the entire mountain region. (The wreck occurred on a short stretch of line which did not have black signals).

2. The railways should review their systems of instructing operating employees in the Board's rules of operation.

3. That measures be taken to overcome "human error" and "mechanical failure" by transmitting orders for the operation of trains.

4. The railways and their unions should discuss the practicability of having all train crew members trained in first aid to the injured.

5. The use of implementing its recommendations and other safety measures the Board said it will arrange a meeting between March 13 with representatives of the railways and their unions.

6. "If a criminal prosecution is proceeded with, the question of individual responsibility will be dealt with by another court," the Board said.

Alfred Atkinson, 22-year-old telegrapher at End Pass Junction, who delivered the dispatcher's order to the train-conductor, was charged with manslaughter on instructions of the British Columbia attorney-general's department in connection with the wreck.

'Old Joe' Blasted By Truman

Stalin Target For Outburst By President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(CP)—President Truman, his country rapidly gearing for defence against Communist aggression, last night made one of his rare personal criticisms of Communist leader.

"There isn't any difference," the president said, between Joseph Stalin and Hitler, Mussolini and other notorious despots of history.

"They are all just alike . . . they believed in the enslavement of the common people," Truman told a "Business Mobilization Dinner" of the Society of Business Magazine Editors.

But, he added, "we are going to win in the world."

"We are faced with aggression, and we are going to prevail in the world," he said.

The president has often scored Russia as the fountain of Communist imperialism, but his prepared comment last night was one of the rare occasions when he has criticized Prime Minister Stalin by name.

The denunciation of Stalin as a dictator recalled that in 1948 Truman referred to the Soviet leader as "a man who had killed more prisoners of the Yalta, Moscow, and Potsdam political councils."

VALENTINE FIRED
The President's speech came as a day of rapid-fire developments on the U.S. home front. An accused House of Representatives member, approval of the resolution urging the United Nations to demand China's withdrawal from the Korean peninsula, and the resignation of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, is succeeding him.

In a shake-up in the economic field, Truman fired Alan Vreeland from his job as Economic Stabilization Chief and named Eric Johnston, former president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, to succeed him.

Allies Withdraw From Key City

The Reds had swarmed into the key central Korean road-rail hub from three sides and had threatened to trap the allied garrison forces that entered the city Friday.

TOKYO, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Communist forces today hit allied troops in recaptured Wonsu on three sides. Fighting raged inside the key road-rail on the central Korean front.

The Red attack—perhaps the start of the expected Communist offensive—flared as Gen. MacArthur arrived in Korea and said: "No one is going to drive us into the sea."

"This command intends to maintain a military position in Korea just as long as the statement of the United Nations decide that we should do so," MacArthur told a special press conference.

"The army," MacArthur said, "stands resolute and undaunted, awaiting that further political decision which can only come from the channels of the world now faced with this new and entirely unanticipated problem."

The Allied supreme commander, who dictated his statement to correspondents at Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea, said his words need not be censored.

STRATEGY SEEN
AP correspondent William O. Roberts reported the Wonsu fight was not a major battle but, he said, the attack had the stamp of Communist Chinese and Korean strategy to drive as far as possible into the old Pusan perimeter, then the flanks and roll Allied forces back against the east coast west coast.

Barnard noted the Wonsu fight was not a major battle but, he said, the attack had the stamp of Communist Chinese and Korean strategy to drive as far as possible into the old Pusan perimeter, then the flanks and roll Allied forces back against the east coast west coast.

Barnard said Communist troops in unknown numbers were on the east and west edges of the ruined town and along along the twisted, bombed rail line to the northwest.

On the southeast side of Wonsu, Communist troops were moving rapidly in the hills across the mountains to the east were at least six North Korean divisions.

Birtons Think UN Korea Case Strong

'Go-Slow' Policy Advocated To Prevent War With Reds

By E. S. Johnson

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Birtons today faced the week-end with feelings of undignified anxiety and uncertainty over the grave deterioration of the international situation.

They were torn between the conflicting choice of a "go-slow" policy or a stand that might risk a full-scale war over China's defiant rejection of a cease-fire truce in Korea.

There is general agreement in Britain that the United Nations has a strong case against Communist China. But the prevalent view is that the UN should move warily and avoid actions beyond its powers of enforcement or measures that might invite intervention by Russia.

CHINA AGGRESSOR

Meanwhile, it was reported that the British government is preparing a formula which would bring the Chinese to the negotiating table without involving the risk of punitive sanctions. In the view of diplomatic observers, imposition of economic sanctions would not only prove ineffectual but would invite a wide-open rupture by playing into the hands of the Communist bloc.

The press of the country, however, was far from agreement on the best policy to pursue. Most papers advised a cautious, "open-door" approach to the settlement. Others took the firm stand that a "show-down" was overdue and that acceptance of China's counter-proposals would imply surrender to aggression and make the United Nations an object of derision.

Some commentators have drawn a parallel between the present crisis and the situation that brought about collapse of the League of Nations. The same arguments, they said, were heard then in justification of aggression and brutality. The results then were "catastrophic" and would be no less disastrous today.

MacArthur Lands In Korean Zone

General Douglas MacArthur landed in the Korean zone at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday.

An Eighth Army spokesman said the patrol went into Pyongyang, two miles northeast of Osh. Friday without encountering any Reds. The patrol probed further northwest but withdrew after drawing fire.

Red troops were reported concentrating in battalion and company strength west of Ichon, 31 miles southeast of Seoul.

General Says UN Army 'Has Plenty of Fight'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins declared today that the United Nations army in Korea has "plenty of fight left in it and if the enemy attacks in any strength they will be severely punished."

In a surprise appearance at a military briefing, to which he was accompanied by Defense Secretary George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff also said:

1. The enemy on the western end of the front "has shown no disposition in the last week or two to push south from the Han river."

2. A thorough study of the entire eastern section of North Korea by Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, of the air force, made by airplane, helicopter and finally on a personal trip with a ground patrol unit, showed no sign of enemy forces moving in that snow-cold countryside.

Collins and Vandenberg, the air force chief of staff, returned earlier this week from an inspection of the Korean front.

"I found our troops in very good shape; their morale was far better than I expected it to be," Collins told reporters at today's briefing.

EARNS $7 WAGE

Poor, Honest Shoeshine Boy Hits Bonanza

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—(UPI)—Sylvester Killorn, 45-year-old shoe shine boy, lives in a 15-cent-a-night tenement house. He is so poor he had to sleep $20 at once in nine years.

So when he found a purse with a $20 bill crumpled in it, he did the only thing a truly poor man knows he has to do. He turned it over to police.

"There was no temptation whatever," the old man explained. "I figured it was a poor person who lost it." That was three months ago.

Yesterday he was told to report to a downtown police headquarters. There he was given the $25 as he left.

His thin face reddened with indignation when asked why he turned the money in. "I hoped someone would claim it," he answered.

Killorn, who earns $7 a week shining shoes, said he once played a violin in dance bands, but gave up when he lost his violin. He said he might buy a new violin now, but wasn't sure.

A friend would act as banker for his money, he said.

Edmonton Man On Assn. Executive

CALGARY, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The Alberta Cynodont Association meeting yesterday, voiced its opposition to the elimination of the "three-day" rule for heavy horses on the Western exhibition circuit.

T. MacMillan of Calgary was featured president. W. J. Barnes of Edmonton and E. D. Adams of Calgary were re-elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Many of the Dutch soldiers had never experienced winter before. Den Ouden, who had spent 17 years in Indonesia, had seen himself for 12 years until he hit the white-covered mountains of Korea.

The Dutch were last in action on the Woulsburg, where they helped hold back portions of the defence line for 11 days. Thus far, three of the Netherlands have been killed and 22 wounded.

Province Sets Oil Production Record

November Drilling Shows Effect of Cold Weather Start

Oil production from Alberta wells in November, 1950, was the greatest in the province's history, the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board reported today.

Output for the month was 2,834,000 barrels, compared with 2,834,000 barrels in October, the previous record month. The flow was almost double that of November, 1949.

It was obtained from 1,963 wells. Wellhead production was 2,834,000 barrels in November 1949.

Biggest producer was the Redwater field, which totalled 1,201,204 barrels in 1950 operating wells. The field had 701 wells in operation. Output in October totalled 1,388,682 barrels.

Totals for other fields with production in excess of 100,000 barrels were: Leduc 979,001 (955,622); Turner Valley 200,170 (181,361); Lloydminster 71,634 (69,104); other fields 184,167 (811); other areas 21,011 (30,253).

LESS DRILLING Onset of winter was reflected in the drilling report which showed total footage drilled dropped to 394,719 compared with 448,830 in October. Only 114 rigs were operating compared with 123 in October.

Gross value of crude to producers was $8,770,124 compared with $8,120,278 the previous month and $8,818,815 last year. It raised the gross for the year to $23,600,415.

Licenses were issued for 160 new oil wells; 60 were in operation. Producers were brought in, and 36 wells were abandoned. Three wells were suspended as potential gas wells.

Transport Men Seek New Traffic Board for Province

The Alberta Motor Transport Association has asked the government to appoint an independent traffic board with permanent tenure of office.

This board, according to AMTA, should be made up of one representative chosen by the government, one representative from the transport industry, and one to be chosen by the first two placed in office.

This board, said Jack Taylor, secretary-manager of AMTA, would replace the present highway traffic board, which has no permanent tenure of office.

Tungsten oxide also was used for greenish yellow coloring in dials and other ceramic ware. However, it was given up long before the value of uranium for atomic fission was generally known.

The pottery, colored with uranium oxide gave off a sickly color under certain lighting conditions.

Imports of $2,000,000 were in excess of exports, but the export-import deficit was $2,000,000 less than in 1949. Higher world prices accounted for part of the jump in value.

Exports to Canada in December, 1950, valued at $3,000,000, showed a lower daily rate than October or November, but equaled the rate of the third quarter of 1950.

Eisenhower Asks Armed Support From Germans

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once scored Germany as a conqueror, said today: "I would like to see the German people lined up with others in defence of the western type of civilization."

Eisenhower, who flew from Luxembourg on the wings of the European force of Atlantic Pact members to lay the groundwork for a united defence against Communist aggression, said reporters: "I hope that some day the great German people will be lined up with the west. I believe in the free-democratic quality of the German people."

Asked whether he believes the German should be mobilized to assist in the western defence plan, he declared there is "no place for actual neutrality" when civilizations are in conflict.

Bible College Trains Missionaries as Pilots CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—The missionary, who used to struggle through dense jungles for weeks carrying the word of God to remote villages, has discovered the airplane.

Today's flying missionaries, traveling on a wing with a prayer, take the gospel everywhere.

The Moody Bible Institute, along with its regular training for missionaries and Bible students, gives a special "missionary technical course." Besides such subjects as Bible doctrine, personal evangelism and pagan religious psychology, the technical students take flight instruction, radio and communications and photography.

According to Moody, missionaries feel the airplane is the most powerful of all modern inventions to assist in their work. It is a technical course, few deep into the Mexican jungles to visit a hitherto inaccessible tribe, the Lacandon Indians.

It took him 12 minutes. On land it would have been a hard journey of several days.

Missionary pilot students at Moody learn to navigate and maintain their planes, as well as to fly them. When they finish their four-year course, many of them will find themselves in remote outposts. They'll have to be one-man airports besides a one-man church.

Moody's technical students also study radio operation and photography. Radio is handy to keep in instant touch with other missions, to get help in case of emergency and to get the latest weather reports for aid in safe flying.

And the missions, in their reports to the churches, find photographs tell the story better than words. So Moody trains the technical mission specialist as a crack photographer.

FIRST TO FLY The first flying missionary work in the Bolivian jungles in 1941. But Moody's course, designed to turn out students to satisfy the need, wasn't organized until 1946.

Now there are only three students. Now there are 36 with eight instructors. Six light airplanes, the type used in the field.

Boy Ruler Saved By Night Flight

Aides Lead Tibetan Lama To Safety as Reds Conquer

ON THE TIBETAN-INDIAN FRONTIER, Jan. 20. — (AP)—The flight of the young Dalai Lama from his capital in Chinese Communist-inhabited Tibet was one of the strangest journeys ever made by a monarch, an aide indicated today.

The aide and two European technicians, who accompanied him, said the Red Chinese flag already was flying over the cold Chinese ruler in Lhasa, the capital, when plans were started Dec. 17 to save the 16-year-old ruler from the Reds.

Jan. 2 the boy king reached the temporary safety of Yatsun, and a provisional capital was set up in the southern mountain village about 180 miles from Lhasa. Several tons of treasure—a small part of the vast fortune accumulated in Potala Palace over a period of more than 500 years—previously had been taken over the same route.

FORTRESS TAKEN
The flight was precipitated after a fireworks display had won for China the Tibetan fortress of Chando, 370 air miles east of Lhasa. Potala Palace and the Chinese Communist's mastery of the country.

Plans for the Dalai Lama's trip over a perilous ice trail were made in the utmost secrecy, as fleeing emissaries in Lhasa reported by radio to Communist field headquarters every known move made by the Tibetans.

The boy ruler's most trusted advisers led his monk-like room mate, awakened him, and advised that flight was necessary.

TAKES LAST VIEW
Ten miles from Lhasa, the boy king descended from his covered chair and bowed at the white mast of Potala Palace lit by the first rays of the morning sun. He then mounted a horse and rode down a ridge toward virtual exile in the temporary capital.

Death Toll From Flu Runs Into Thousands

LONDON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Britain and the Republic of Ireland are bearing the brunt of Europe's worst influenza outbreak in years.

The crisis appears in North America, where the epidemic began during the Christmas period. In the Mediterranean area, which has escaped the disease in its earlier stages, now reports mounting cases of the illness.

In Ireland, Cork and Dublin have been hardest hit. All primary schools are closed in Cork and a number of government officials are ill in Dublin.

Official reports for the 126 great cities of England and Wales, including London, show that 899 persons died of influenza last week. The total report by the registrar-general's office was almost double the 458 of the previous week.

The number stricken by the flu during the current European epidemic is not known, but it runs into the thousands, with the death toll apparently highest among persons of middle age.

Although the disease took a mild form in most areas, physicians and nurses have been swamped, hospital facilities taxed, school attendance cut, and public services such as transportation and mail delivery curtailed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles, State Secretary Dean Acheson's expert on a Japanese peace treaty, will leave by military plane Monday en route to Japan for talks with Gen. MacArthur and Japanese leaders.

Of the total estimated cost of the project, Canada's share is $5,000,000. Congress last year authorized its construction. President Truman's budget for fiscal year includes $20,000 to plan it.

Acheson Seeks Canada, U.S. Dam In Montana

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson has asked the Canada-United States International Joint Commission to approve construction of a proposed $242,000,000 Libby dam and reservoir in Montana.

The dam would be the Hootenay River near Libby. Most approval by the commission is required because the dam would raise the level of waters in British Columbia valley country and at the Alberta headwaters.

Of the total estimated cost of the project, Canada's share is $5,000,000. Congress last year authorized its construction. President Truman's budget for fiscal year includes $20,000 to plan it.

PLEASE GOD! Not to Mine!

Not to mine, this horrible crippler.

Not to mine this thing with the long scientific name, poliomyelitis, this thing that means misery and pain in the language of little ones.

Not to mine to wear a brace, to hobble, to limp.

Not to mine to hear the laughter of others, to watch them at play, to cry the bitter tears of childhood lost forever.

Please God! Not to mine!

And let me help those to whom it does come, this crippler, this destroyer.

Let me give to help the helpless.

Let my dollars and my prayers go with these little ones, that some day, some time, children everywhere will walk without fear, free of childhood's greatest enemy, Poliomyelitis.

I am glad I have the privilege of giving to the Canadian March of Dimes.

Rose Wins Honors At Viking 'Spiel

VIKING, Jan. 20.—Former Canadian curling champion Billy Rose and his helmsman won the 'big prize' as the annual Viking Freightsong bowl went up here yesterday.

Time Out

By Dick Beddoes

Blowhard Beddoes hits and Baidersbach.

On this last Saturday in the week the following items come from Australia:

Amateur bowlers in New South Wales were discovered taking down a pair of batsmen up for bats. Australia's Amateur Bowling Federation has ordered them to take salvia tests.

The situation has prompted the following jingle:

THREE DOT STUFF

Royal Copeland passed here yesterday long enough to cut a few capers with Cliff, Stuker, brothers, A. and B. The handsome halfback is destined for another football season with Calgary Stampede.

A. Stuker, coach of the Eskimos, denies published reports that Bob Wilkinson of UCLA was the all-American end in the Shrine Bowl game at San Francisco. The butt according to Stuker, was a chap Redmond, Washington and Mary, who helped American football to play much in the Shrine classic.

Stan Leonard, Canada's outstanding pro golfer, is a two-stroke off the pole in the Lakewood Park Open at Long Beach, Calif. Leonard finished second to Fred Hise in this tournament last year.

Ray Clecko is telling it around that he'll wage entire purse on himself to win when, and if, he is rematched with Ben Grubow. Grubow knocked out the previous unbeaten Clecko in one round last Monday night.

MORE BALDERDASH

From Florida come the item that America's oldest trippler, Mrs. Faith Murphy, Mrs. Hope Dunne, and Mrs. Charity Stark, finished second to Fred Hise in this tournament last year.

Toronto Varsity Discussing Tarpaulin

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Varsity Stadium, site of Grey Cup football games, may get a tarpaulin, unless it is manded in some quarters during the last few seasons when snow and rain sometimes made the playing field a quagmire.

Warren Stevens, director of athletics, said yesterday a sub-committee of the University of Toronto Athletic Directorate will meet next month to discuss the tarpaulin purchase.

"We're still just in the investigation stage," Stevens said. "He said the price for a canvas tarpaulin would be about $20,000. There had been no firm price on nylon.

HALL OF FAME

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—(CP)—The Big Four Football Union is asking the Canadian Hockey Union to consider setting up a football hall of fame. Eric Craddock said yesterday.

The Big Four president said he will propose to his union's annual meeting here today that the HCU be approached on the matter.

Craddock said that then "football has developed in popularity tremendously and I'm sure every official in the country would go for such an idea."

Tom Langford, HCU president, said also at that time he would be in favor of any such proposal.

Local Figure-Skating Club Offers Potential Champions

Born but a year ago, Edmonton Figure Skating Club has grown to a ripe membership of more than 80 skating enthusiasts.

Tiny tots of 4 years and young-in-spirit 60-year-olds take part in the year-round activities of the organization.

Primarily formed to offer indoor instruction to potential figure skaters, club has expanded to include competition drills and pleasure-fancy skating for those interested in the flash of steel blades.

Proud of their pupils, instructors Mrs. Peggy Currie and Mrs. Betsy Soley say they have stars of the ice parade within their ranks.

They escorted nine skaters to Western Canadian Figure Skating Championships in Saskatoon this week-end.

This is third year of western Canada entries from Edmonton... and the largest group to take part in Edmonton's offering to future championships.

Instruction is given daily at Edmonton Gardens from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 4 to 5:30 p.m. during hockey practice weeks. Each Sunday evening from 7 to 10 a skating lesson-session is held for members.

High Hopes Go With Skater Sonja Currie

Gold medalist Sonja Currie wears the hope and confidence of Edmonton figure-skating enthusiasts as she swirls, twirls and spins to success this week-end.

A member of Edmonton Skating Club, Miss Currie was awarded her gold medal during special summer skating sessions.

Today she is taking part in Western Canadian Figure Skating Championships in Saskatoon. Eight other potential stars make up the Edmonton contribution to blade-beauty and grace.

Plans have been made for Miss Currie to take part in Canadian Figure Skating Association national open championships to be held in Vancouver Feb. 9 and 10.

At that time five girls from eastern Canada will compete for senior women's championship. Winner of this will take part in contest for world title, recently vacated by Barbara Ann Scott.

NINE POTENTIAL CHAMPION FIGURE SKATERS DISPLAY TALENT IN SASKATOON

FIRST GLIMMER OF STARDOM shines on nine young figure skaters of Edmonton this week. They left the city Wednesday evening for Saskatoon, where Western Canadian Figure Skating Championships are being held at the week-end. Ice sessions started yesterday and will continue until late tonight. Hopes are high for success of local skaters. Outcome of Western Canadian championships will govern Edmonton's entries in national open championships to be held in Vancouver Feb. 9 and 10. Skaters, ages and experience, group of nine potential skating champions includes Gerry Todd, left; Carol Taylor, Sonja Currie, Jean

PREVENTION IS BEST as far as winter freezing of pipes is concerned. Top of diagram shows method of prevention, but if you must be careless and let it freeze, means of thawing them out are also shown below.

Pipe Freezing Common Peril But Never Cause For Panic

By BOB SCHARF
Fortunate indeed is the homeowner who never needs to worry about frozen water pipes. However, for those others, any pipes which are exposed to freezing temperatures should be covered, especially if located out of doors or in unheated spaces.

Smaller water pipes are more likely to freeze than larger water pipes. However, the latter category has usually been insulated to some extent, and which should be covered, especially if located out of doors or in unheated spaces.

For pipes located in an unheated attic, garage, or out of doors where they are likely to freeze, it is well to insulate with a rock wool or hair felt, in addition to the covering of cork.

U.S. Mohair
At Output Tops
On Dallas, Tex.—Only three U.S. mills in the world produce mohair in a major scale, although it is a commodity which is enjoying a favorable market.

Most of the mohair in this country is produced in Texas, which provides about 95 per cent. New Mexico, Arizona, California, Oregon and Missouri also are producers.

Commercial mohair production is a substantial scale in the United States, and it is in the United States that the mohair industry is the largest.

The mohair industry in the U.S. has 101 years old. The first American state was brought there by the Spanish.

HOUSES MADE "DIRT CHEAP" BY MACHINE

Homes can be literally built "dirt cheap" with a thousand outfit that drives up on the front and rear and dug from the foundation to make blocks according to Popular Mechanics Magazine.

The blocks, measured approximately 36x48x12 inches and weighing about 35 pounds, withstand a pressure of 1000 to 2000 pounds to the square inch before crumbling.

To make them hard and water-resistant, the soil is emulsified asphalt.

The finished blocks are laid with ordinary masonry mortar, and are inset and veneered. The surface of the blocks can be painted, if desired.

Hung Lamp Is Convenient
A pinup lamp becomes a versatile lighting fixture when it is hung from the picture molding.

In this way, it can be moved quickly to be used as a bed lamp or reading lamp and its location changed in a few minutes to illuminate a card table or other spot where extra light is needed.

Just mount the lamp on a finished wooden harkwood, and drive a screw eye into the top edge of the board to permit fastening a length of picture wire and a hook.
